Polished slats Engineering and Installation on your aircraft

Sonaca Group, member of the BelAirbus consortium producing the slats for all Airbus, is based in Gosselie Belgium. The company is in charge of the design, manufacturing and installation of the unique solution to polish your current slats, a nice to have improvement approved by EASA.

The removal and the re-installation can be done by any MRO EASA Part 145, any Cabin Completion center or our own center Comlux America during your next visit. The polishing process granted by EASA has been widely studied and tested in Sonaca Group facilities in order to maintain aerodynamic performance.

The polishing operation will be done in a Sonaca company. Comlux Engineering & Services Division is at your disposal to register your order and manage this upgrade on your aircraft.
